Lennar Trade Partners -

The Safety of our Associates, Customers and Trade Partners remains our Number 1 Priority at Lennar and we will continue to keep the communications channels open with you as we manage our way through COVID-19.

Of paramount importance is ensuring that we take all precautions to help keep everyone safe and reduce the spread of the virus. By reducing the spread, we save valuable lives by limiting those affected.

We appreciate all that you have done in making safety our collective Number 1 priority, so we are again sharing the following key safety measures:

1. Make sure all of your Trades have met our designated Lennar Community Safety Officer for each of the communities they are working in and familiarize themselves with the Lennar Safety Officer's Checklist attached.
2. Practice proper sanitary measures for both office and field employees. Attached is our 10-Step Program.
3. Practice Social Distancing. In areas of heavy congregation, we will try to provide tape or other measures to identify 6' separation. Where this is not possible, please instruct your trades to take extra precaution to ensure they are maintaining the minimum 6' of separation.
4. Practice regular sanitizing of highly frequented areas (door handles, common surfaces, tools, work areas, etc.).
5. One more thing we must emphasize as this is becoming an even bigger concern - food trucks and all who utilize them must practice social distancing measures by having a designated spot for the food truck and 6' of separation between all who interact with the food truck vendor. There can be no exceptions and everyone waiting in line must also be 6' apart from each other.

Lennar stands ready and willing to assist you in navigating these troubled waters. Please reach out to our operations teams or me for any assistance you may need.

Sincerely,

[Lennar Division President]
